My Biggest Investing Quarter Ever

Due to a convergence in timing, I was able to make by far the biggest commitment to the stock market in my life during late March and into the second quarter of 2020.

On 31 March 2020, I posted My Three Week-Long Investing Program.

It led off, "I am ramping it up over the month of April and into May."

As reported 30 June in the WSJ, U.S stocks finished their best quarter in 20 years.

I also posted the exact areas I was investing in and why. No way I could have expected such quick and massive returns. Given that Joe Biden is apparently attempting to put a quick end to it all by proclaiming, "we have 120 million dead," I suppose I should not get too comfortable.

OK, now what?

With Joe Biden now seemingly considering a VP candidate with sympathy for a Marxist-centered group, it is possible his campaign will implode, bringing turbulence to the financial markets?

I will update my investment strategy posts at the end of July.
